Mindfulness is not just meditation. Being mindful also means living your life with intention rather than just going through the motions, offering yourself grace, or offering yourself the space to feel emotions that are inside!

Challenge yourself to practice mindfulness. To help you on your way you may consider the following recordings offered through the Resiliency Center.