BECOME WELL OFFICE CERTIFIED 2.0

General Wellness
- Post and disseminate wellness events or activities for all to see
- Provide an in-office wellness activity
- Create an office-wide challenge for employees to participate in
- Share a wellness tip or conduct a mindfulness meditation at all office meetings
- Plan a department wellness day once a year
- Create an Office Wellness Handbook (guidelines for employees)
- Achieve Green Office Certification, Bronze or higher
- Utilize the Green Event self-assessment for office meetings

Nutrition
- Host an RD Approved presentation
- Meet with RD Approved dietitians for an Office Food Environment Scan
- Stock RD Approved snacks in common space/break rooms/meetings
- Utilize RD Approved catering menus for office functions
- Provide a refrigerator/microwave to encourage meals from home
- Establish a place to eat that is comfortable (well lit and inviting)
- Encourage use of reusable water bottles, mugs, cups, dish- and silverware

Physical Activity
- Allow for standing/active desks
- Plan “walking meetings” when appropriate
- Encourage daily 10-minute movement breaks
- Start a walking group that meets at least once a week
- Encourage active transportation by explicitly outlining location-specific plan
- Host a PEAK movement workshop or presentation

Mindset
- Complete a team mindfulness activity
- Practice gratitude and appreciation
- Discuss and connect with purpose and meaning of work (individual and team)
- Host a resilience or mindfulness presentation
- Celebrate successes and reflect on setbacks as a team

Stress Management/Productivity
- Allow flexible work schedules for physical activity/mental health/productivity
- Allow staff to work remotely at least once a month
- Designate one half-day each week that is meeting-free (i.e. No-Talk Tuesdays)
- Reduce eye-strain by adjusting light settings on all laptops and computers
- Set aside time for staff to focus on work to which they feel deeply connected
- Assess and address issues to improve work-flow efficiency

FOR MORE INFORMATION ON WELLNESS: